1. The deadline for scholarship applications at Washington State University is February 15, 1963.

2. It isn't necessary to state any scholarship preference; a student will be considered for all scholarships for which he is eligible. However, he should state if he qualifies for any specific awards such as Star Pioneers of Washington or Daughters of Eastern Star.

3. Junior college transfer students will receive equal consideration with upper class Washington State students.

4. Application letters should include any explanation of the application questions the student thinks would be of value to the Scholarships and Student Aids Committee.

5. If possible, two of the three letters of recommendation should be from instructors, housemothers, counselors, advisers, or employers. The third letter is to be from someone who personally knows the student's family.

These points are given along with more specific details on the scholarship applications. The main point to remember is that the application must be accurate and complete.

'Antigone' Scheduled Here February 15-17

By Rick Dykes

A MODERN adaptation of the ancient Greek play "Antigone" will be presented by the Drama Department of CBC Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 15-17, according to Thomas L. Barton, chairman of the Language Arts Division of CBC.

Barton stated that "Antigone" would be the most difficult play ever attempted at CBC. Also director of the play, Barton said that it would begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Student Lounge and run for about one and one-half hours.

"Antigone" involves two daughters and two sons of Oedipus, the late king of Thebes, and his brother-in-law, Creon, who is now king.

Creon orders that one of the brothers is to be left unburied after the two have killed each other in a civil war.

Defying the order by throwing earth on the corpse, Antigone, a sister, is buried alive for punishment. This sets off a chain of suicides which rocks old Creon to his base.

The cast of the play includes eight men and four women—Bucky Plumb as Creon, Sharron Dudley as Antigone, Richard Dykes as Chorus, Barbara Williams as Ismene, Marv Carstens as First Guard, Cy Jones as Haemon, Dan Reilley as Second Guard, Mrs. Vi Howard as Nurse, David Miller as Third Guard, Diana Rees as Eurydice, Dave Piccoli as Messenger, and the Page, who has not been cast yet.

Student Director is Linda Brutzman, and the Stage Manager is Don Britton.

This is the second year of instruction at CBC for Barton, who was graduated from Eastern Washington College, with BA's in English and Drama, and then did graduate work at the University of Denver, receiving his MA in Theater.

Transfer, Graduation Info Given by Guidance Office

STUDENTS planning to tranfer to another institution should be making the necessary arrangements at the Guidance office. Preliminary application blanks for WSU and U of W may be obtained in the office.

To enroll at another college it will be necessary to write to the director of admission of that institution.

It would benefit students to notify the institution of their choices and obtain necessary information on the right transfer subject and the grade point desired for admission, aid Mr. Haas.

Representatives from the major four-year institutions in Washington will be visiting the CBC campus at various times throughout the remainder of the school year. Arrival of these representatives will be announced previous to their arrival.

STUDENTS planning to graduate this quarter should get together with their advisers and check their accumulative grade, hours and classes required, reports Mr Haas.

To be eligible for graduation from CBC the student must qualify for one of the following awards: The Associate in Arts and Sciences the Associate in Applied Science, the certificate in Practical Nursing, the certificate in Vocational - Technical Education, and the Certificate of General Education.

Those completing requirements at the end of this quarter should apply for graduation at the Guidance Center office as soon as possible.

Winter Formal Plans Underway

CBC'S FRESHMAN class will sponsor the annual Winter Formal Saturday, January 26, in the student lounge.

The theme, "Misty, will provide an atmosphere for an evening which will be highlighted by entertainment and the royalty coronation.

Admission for the dance is $1.50 per couple. Attire will be semi-formal.

"Participation of the freshman class is needed in preparation for the dance. Anyone interested in helping with the decorating should contact one of the class officers," said Earl Crouchley, freshman class president.

Stan Berry's Visit Postponed to 23rd

THE VISIT of Mr. Stan Berry, associate Director of Admissions at the Washington State University, has been changed from January 18 to the 23rd between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Students interested in transferring to WSU should sign a list in the Guidance Center and attend this conference, said Mr. Haas.

Dance to Benefit March of Dimes

MACHINE Technology Association is sponsoring a March of Dimes benefit dance which will be held in the CBC student lounge tonight, 9:30 p.m. to midnight.

One of KEPR's disk jockeys will spin the records Price of admission is 25 cents per person.

Campus Impressions

By Linda Brutzman

I WAS APPALLED at the poor attendance at the lecture given recently by Mr. Felix Green on Red China. In his speech Mr. Green, who is with the British Broadcasting System, had a great deal of valuable information to pass on to CBC students. The facts he presented opened the eyes of the few students present to the truth about the Communist China situation. During the one-hour lecture he showed slides of China today and told of his recent (1957 and 1960) trips to Communist China.

Linda

Mr. Green presented many relatively unknown facts about this new Communist empire—that they have more material goods than ever before, a greater sense of economic security, and a new way of life. Why, some have even turned to Western dress. In short, the Red Chinese people apparently are better off than ever before in recent history. They are happy—that in itself poses the biggest threat.

It was such an informative lecture and it is a shame more of you didn't take the time to attend. After all, classes were excused and transportation was furnished. The smattering crowd present speaks little for our school. I can't help but think that it was also embarrassing to the speaker.

The lecture series is probably the most valuable free information offered to CBC students, but unless more students take advantage of such programs, I don't see how the ASB can continue to sponsor them. That would indeed be a great loss to the school and more importantly, to the students.

I don't know why attendance has been so poor at these functions; perhaps it lies in the fact that students here have an apathetic attitude toward learning, but I doubt it. I wonder, if at all possible, it wouldn't be better to arrange to have such speakers here on campus rather than at the high school.

WITH WINTER quarter comes the traditional Winter Formal which, as I understand it, is to become a semi-formal affair this year. Under the theme, "Misty" the dance promises to rate among the top events of the year. Dance time is fast approaching, so guys, don't wait—ask her now. If you're saying "Ask who?" it's time you were finding out.

●

THERE DOESN'T seem to be much else going on around campus. Some organization (except, of course, the busy freshmen) had better instigate some action.

Baby Boys Join Instructors' Families

THE COLLEGIATE wishes to extend congratulations to two CBC faculty members upon new additions to their families.

Mr. Roger Bjerk, history professor, is the father of a boy, Joel Andrew.

The other faculty member with a new son is Mr. James Beecroft, math professor. The Beecrofts named their baby, Stephen Irl.

S. A. C. Happenings

DURING THE Student Activity Council meeting Tuesday morning it was brought to the attention of the council that the following clubs have not turned in a list of their officers and advisers to the council secretary, Sharon Lean. These names are necessary for Student Activity Council records.

Basin Management
B.S.U.
C.C.U.N.
Cheerleaders and Songleaders
Chess Club
Drama
Machine Tech
M.S.M.
Press Club

The representative from Machine Tech reported that the profit from their dance tomorrow night is being given to the March of Dimes rather than being deposited in their treasury.

●

PRESIDENT Sharon Hartley introduced the publicity directors, Judy Wall and Rusty Kenney to the council. Any club that needs help with publicity for their coming events are advised to contact these girls.

The council approved tentative plans for a barn dance in the student lounge for February 9 sponsored by the cheerleaders and songleaders.

Mr. Hansen advised council members to get their clubs to ask teachers whom they want for chaperons for dances at least a week in advance. He also reminded the council to tell teachers with children they will be paid for their babysitters.

San Antonio Symphony Scheduled for Concert

THE SAN ANTONIO Symphony will honor the Tri-Cities January 23 in a Community Concert appearance at 8:15 in the Kennewick High School auditorium.

Featured will be David Barlllan, piano soloist, and Victor Alessandro, conductor.

CBC has 75 tickets and students may check them out in Room C-116.

Toastmasters Offer Speechcraft Course

PASCO Toastmasters will be conducting a Speechcraft course starting January 22. It will be held Tuesday nights at 7:30 p.m.

Speechcraft is an eight week course with the purpose of educating people in the basic fundamentals of public speaking.

Fee for the course is $5 and this may be applied to the membership fee into Toastmasters.

For further information call Steve Maguire at 586-1044 after 6 p.m.

Cut Offs Banned In CBC Library

IT HAS once again been called to the attention of the Collegiate that some students are still unaware that the library is considered part of the campus, and when the student handbook states that no "cut-offs," or clothing of similar fashion should be worn on campus, this is inclusive of the library.

This reminder is especially for new students not familiar with the rules and usually pertains to the evening when classes are in session and the library open.

The librarians would appreciate the acknowledgment of this rule and the obeying of it.

Gabby's Corner

By Ron Bracy

THE STUDENT Council at Grays Harbor College has listed as one of it's achievements so far this year, the formulation of an independent traffic ticketing system on campus.

I was just thinking that it might be well worth the time of our own student council to see if we might set up a similar type of organization.

WHILE I was sitting here in the Collegiate office contemplating what to put in the column for this week I happened to notice a few students working in the art room. They were studying their works so intently that if an atom had gone off I am sure not a one of them would have heard it.

You could tell that they were all extremely interested in it. The toughest critics in the school on these paintings surely must have been themselves. I am not a great art critic but I thought that the art was of very high caliber.

●

I BELIEVE that a certain amount of comedy should be in every newspaper.

A member of the Collegiate staff while down in sunny Cal. was able to lose about $400. Not to mention any names, we will just say that he is a short person that we call Sam.

You see while down there he forgot to bring home the little item called the school camera. Sam felt a bit sad about the whole thing as you can well imagine.

To make a long story short the camera was returned the other day by Wisconsin who found it when they were playing in the Rose Bowl.

Doesn't it make you feel a wee bit better Sam?

Hawks Beat Everett JC By 5 Points

CBC HAWKS rallied last Tuesday night breaking a two game losing streak by beating the unbeaten Everett Trojans by a score of 69-64 at the Pasco High gym. As a result the Hawk's record now reads 2-2.

Tom Ballentyne was high point man for the game, with Bob Antulov collecting 11, Ed Stoner getting 14, and Bob Stromer with 12 for CBC.

Everett high man was Ted Murrey adding 18 points for his team, followed by Dick Smith with 16 and 10 apiece for Gerald Marsh and Steve Strojan.

The game varied considerably as the lead changed hands a total of 13 times with eight tries occurring before CBC won the game at the final whistle.

AFTER 1:47 minutes of the opening, CBC lead by four points. The Trojans moved ahead with 15 minutes left, and with 6:11 left the Trojans lead by seven points.

Before the half-time whistle blew the score read 26-all as Antulov was fouled and he took the advantage to put in both free throw shots to place CBC in the lead 28 to 26.

Three more points went to CBC after the beginning of the second half, donated by Stoner with two points and Ballentyne with one on a free throw.

Everett, with 12:52 left to be played, held the CBC lead to one point before the Hawks again moved ahead. The score became tied at 44-all with 10 minutes remaining to be played.

Everett then took over the lead 59-57 at the 4:39 minutes to be played mark. CBC recovered on free throws by Ballentyne, Skife and McIntyre to lead the remainder of the game.

Antulov Comes to CBC From N. Y., Pennsylvania

BOB ANTULOV

By Sam Martinez

IF YOU have attended any basketball games this season, you have probably noticed a 6'7" center stuffing in basketballs as if the basket was only seven feet high.

He is Bob Antulov or commonly referred to by his team mates as "The Rock." Bob is a 1960 graduate of Far Rockaway High School, New York City. He attended his freshman year of college in St. Francis of Loretta, Pennsylvania.

Bob is married to the former Kathy Faulkner and is presently residing in Pasco. The Antulovs are expecting a visit from the stork in May.

●

CHANCES are you have never seen Bob in the halls of CBC. Bob is a studious young man and since he is married he does not spend much time in the lounge.

This does not mean, howthat he is not a friendly chap. Once you get to know Bob you will discover what a wonderful person he really is.

This is Bob's first trip to the Northwest and he is enjoying his stay.

He says: "I like it fine out here. People and the climate are a lot warmer."

He had this to say about our chances in the conference:

"Our chances of taking it are better than average and they keep getting better with every game. This league is as tough as it will ever be."

"The team is beginning to shape up now and we will be a strong contender for the Conference title.

"Jim Rodgers is one of the best coaches I have ever had the privilege of playing for."

Coach Rodgers seems to agree that Bob is perhaps one of the brightest prospects around the circuit.

Rodgers said:

"Bob is big and strong and can rebound well. He is improving every day and is certainly the bulkwark of our defense. He is a good boy to coach.

"He takes a terrific beating under the boards but he never complains. He just keeps playing, as he is a good competitor," he added.

Highline, WSU Frosh To Face CBC Cagers

CBC CAGERS are heading for two more tough games in the coming week, when they host the Highline Thunderbirds January 18 at Pasco High gym and then travel to Pullman for Saturday night's game against the WSU Frosh.

Even though Everett beat Highline by three points, Friday night's game will probably be the toughest and is the most important since it is a conference game.

Coach Rodgers says:

"Highline is a fast, tough ball club. They also have heighth — they're one of the tallest teams we'll play."

The Thunderbirds have two forwards that will be hard to hold back. They are Anderson and Jim Halte, a 6'5" All-Stater who is reported to be an excellent ball player.

"Highline is a good ball team which we're going to have to play real hard to beat," Rodgers added.

Saturday night's game will find the Hawks trying to make it a second win in a non-conference tussle against WSU Frosh.

The WSU Frosh will be playing on their home court.

"They will be tough competition. They will be playing a better game this time," Rodgers added.

Fairbanks, Seattle Newspaper Work Precedes Teaching Here

By Jeff Howard

MR. JOHN de Yonge, who has an extensive background in journalism and news reporting, has come to CBC to instruct English and journalism. He says:

"I am now enjoying the academic aspects of a liberal arts training."

Mr. de Yonge is from Fairbanks, Alaska, where he received most of his early schooling, and later attended the University of Alaska near Fairbanks. He later transferred to the University of Washington, where he earned his M.A. degree in English in 1960. His minors included political science and history.

It was at the UA that de Yonge began news reporting. He was the editor of the "Polar," UA's newspaper, and he worked as a special correspondent for the Alaska Constitution convention and the "Anchorage Daily Times."

"This was the convention that set up the machinery for the Alaskan statehood," said Mr. de Yonge.

While at the UW de Yonge was the associate editor of the "Collegian," UW's quarterly newspaper.

AFTER graduation from UW in 1956 de Yonge worked for the Fairbanks "Daily News Miner" until '58 as a general assignment reporter, night editor, columnist and special editions editor.

In 1957, de Yonge was drafted into the Army Corps of Engineers from the Reserves where he did some reporting for the Army. As a private in the Army, de Yonge was stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif. and Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

In '58, de Yonge returned to the UW to complete his graduate work, and while there, he worked for the "Alaskan Sportsman" magazine in Seattle.

Working with the "Seattle Times" from June '59 to Nov. 1, 1962 as an assistant arts and entertainment editor, de Yonge was a drama and music critic and also did editorial work in the department under Louis R. Suzzo, the arts editor and main critic for the "Times."

MR. DE YONGE, 28, and his wife, Sonjia who is also a UW graduate, now live in Richland, Sonjia's home town.

Mr. de Yonge's hobbies are hunting and fishing, which he enjoys very much. You wonder if he has time? Well as he puts it, "I make time."

"In the State of Washington you can hunt or fish virtually the year around, which you can't do in Alaska," he said.

When asked why he went to the UW de Yonge replied:

"When you're a small town boy, there comes a time when you want to get out, so I did."

Mr. de Yonge says that he likes CBC "very much."

WSU Pharmacy Dean to Visit Here Wednesday

DR. ALLEN I. White, Dean of Washington State University's School of Pharmacy, will be on campus January 23 from 1 30 to 2:30 p.m. He will be talking to any student interested in pharmacy and those wanting to know more about the pharmacy department at WSU. All interested students are invited to attend.

Also there will be two representatives from Washington State University, Mr. Stan Berry and Mr. Gene Omey, who will deal with the university as a whole and not one specific area as Dr. White will be doing. Once more all interested students are invited to attend. The locality of each speaker has not yet been decided. Those interested should check with the office Wednesday.

DUE TO A vacated sophomore office beginning with Winter quarter, any sophomore interested in filling the position of sophomore representative should secure a petition from an ASB officer.

They then need to obtain at least 20 names and return the petition to an ASB officer no later than January 25. The petition will be reviewed before the ASB Council Monday, January 28, with the election taking place Wednesday, January 30. The election will be held by the ASB Council.

Two Males Added To Mixed Ensemble

NEIL SIMMONS, tenor, and Chuck Isaac, bass, have been selected to fill the vacancies left in the mixed ensemble of the Desert Tones. Others are Jeannie Hutchins, Marcia Slagg, Dorothy Fast, Rosemary Feibke, Barronelle Metcalf, Gladys Faulds, Maurice Wallace, Doug Campbell, Jerry Clark, and Duane Johnson.

The group is planning to sing at the Winter Semi-Formal, January 26.
